

For April mtg. newsletter from Arts Facet

The Arts Facet is excited to host another Black Cinema discussion on May 20, from 7pm – 8:30pm! This year, the focus of our conversation will be on the ABC mini-series, “Women of the Movement”. This is a series based on the true story of Emmett Till and Mamie Till-Mobley, a devoted mother, educator and fearless activist.

The mini-series is a 6 part-series now available to stream, so give yourself plenty of time to watch all 6 episodes by May 20:

- S1 E1 - Mother and Son - A mother faces her worst nightmare.
- S1 E2 - Only Skin - A mother rallies her community.
- S1 E3 - Let the People See - Mamie insists on a public wake.
- S1 E4 – Manhunt - The historic trial begins.
- S1 E5 - Mothers and Sons - Testimony about Emmett's character.
- S1 E6 - The Last Word - The verdict is reached.

This is a public event and will be advertised on our social network channels, please share with your networks.

Museum Alert!

The Negro Motorist Green Book, a Smithsonian traveling exhibition is underway at the WA Historical Museum from March 19 – June 12.

On May 19, a leading Green Book scholar, and author of “Overground Railroad: The Green and the Roots of Black Travel in America” Candacy Taylor will be at the Museum (on-site) for an author talk along with a book signing. This is a FREE event as all events on the 3rd Thursdays of each month are free.

For more upcoming events for this and other exhibitions, check out the WA Historical Museum’s website here.
